EXTERIOR FEATURES

TEMPLE STRUCTURE: Steel frame structure with White Moncini granite exterior.

BUILDING:

- The temple's design motifs include representations of the local flora around the Great Salt Lake and nearby wetlands, such as the snowball sand-ver-bena, desert paintbrush, common cattail and reeds.
- Different shades of blues, greens, golds, yellows and reds reflect the indigenous plants in the Syracuse area. The transitioning greens, blues and yellows in the art glass are representative of the reflections of the lake, as this community is considered the "Gateway to Antelope Island."

FENCE: Metal fence with precast columns along the street. Painted precast fence along the sides and back.

WALKWAYS: Concrete with surface retarder, etched finish and manufactured stone pavers.
